Other new cast members include Pruitt Taylor Vince, Tom Bower and Devon Graye.

Ron Perlman has joined the cast of Daniel Stamm's psychological thriller Angry Little God, an IM Global film that Dimension Films will distribute in the U.S.

Angry Little God -- which began principal photography on Tuesday -- headlines Mark Webber (Scott Pilgrim vs. the World) and Rutina Wesley (True Blood). Perman isn't the only new addition to the cast; Pruitt Taylor Vince, Tom Bower and Devon Graye will also star.

The thriller is the English-language remake of the Thai film 13: Game of Death. The story follows an indebted man who gets a mysterious phone call telling him he's on a hidden camera game show while also offering him a fortune if he completes thirteen tasks. The man accepts the challenge but is soon over his head as each task is more horrifying than the last.

Stamm and his writing partner David Birke wrote the script.

IM Global's Octane label is producing and financing the film alongside Brian Kavanaugh-Jones' Automatik and Kiki Miyake's Little Magic Films. IM Global CEO Stuart Ford will executive produce with Deepak Nayar, Michael Roban, Jason Blum and Somsak Techaratanaprasert.
