Ray Liotta has joined Revenge Of The Green Dragons, the thriller helmed by Andrew Lau and Andrew Loo, with production beginning in New York. The triad thriller is executive produced by Martin Scorsese and is fully financed by IM Global's prolific genre label Octane. Scorsese's Best Picture Oscar-winning The Departed was a remake of Lau's Hong Kong gangster film Infernal Affairs. Liotta will play the lead New York detective responsible for investigating the brutal gang and bringing them to justice. He is coming off The Iceman, The Place Beyond The Pines and Killing Them Softly. Also joining the cast are Justin Chon and Harry Shum. The film's based on Fredric Dannen's New Yorker article about the terror spree inflicted by the Green Dragons, the gang of Asian youths in Chinatown.
