Sylvester Stallone Keeps His Head

The title is Bullet to the Head, but Sylvester Stallone (left) may also get an ax to his. He stars as a hitman who joins forces with an honest cop (Fast Five's Sung Kang) after both lose partners to a military mercenary (Jason Momoa, right, lowering his weapon). The movie, out April 13, is "a debate between two different guys from opposite walks of life," says director Walter Hill (48 HRS.). "They both live by moral codes, though they are very different moral codes." —Anthony Breznican
